

STRENUOUS RELIGION OF CHICAGO PREACHER

Footpads Attempt to Hold Him Up, and He Swiped 'Em Good and Hard.

CHICAGO, April 15.—There was a vicious-looking 38-caliber automatic revolver in Rev. A. H. Kaylor's pocket as he faced the audience at Forty-sixth street and Emerald avenue and told them of the beauties of the strenuous religion.

And Rev. Mr. Kaylor would have used the weapon, too, for he has been attacked by two footpads during the day, and when one of the highwaymen recovered consciousness he was lying in the middle of the street. And all that saved the second from a similar fate was the fact that he ran before the clinch of right hand of the minister caught him on the jaw.

"I believe in the strenuous religion," announced the minister, and the automatic bubbled up.

"The Lord said that if a man struck you on one cheek to turn the other. But the Lord wasn't thinking of Chicago and its thugs," continued the minister. Mr. Kaylor attended a service at one of the downtown churches. It was about noon when he started up State street. As he neared Ontario two suspicious-looking men came down the street. The pavement was not wide enough for the three and they met near the curb.

"Give us a quarter," said one.

"Not on your life," answered the preacher.

He said "not on your life" and not "I beg to be excused from contributing."

"Well, I makes it a half. Now, fork over," said the other.

"Not on your life. I work for my quarters and halves and I don't give them to any."

The preacher was not allowed to finish.

One of the men swung at him, while the other reached for his pocket.

Then the minister's right went into action. He was an athlete at Yale once, and he learned considerable about jolts and swings and smashes. He dealt out a choice assortment, and one of the highwaymen went reeling to the pavement.

The minister wiped the perspiration from his face as he waited for the man to recover. The footpad's brain was slightly clouded as he raised himself to a sitting posture.

"Now, you dirty thief, do you want any more of it?" queried the preacher.

"And they told me as how you was a preacher," began the man.

"I am. But have you had enough?"

"Say, but you're a good one. I'm for you. Any one with a poke like dat preacin'?"

"Say, but you're all right," and the highwayman was lost in admiration.

"If all preachers was like you I'd be a Christian," and the footpad hoisted himself to his feet and started in search of his companion.

AGED MAN DIED
OF BROKEN HEART

Father-in-Law of Policeman, Who Was Killed by Burglar Succumbs to Strain.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The tragic ending of Patrolman Hugh J. Enright, who was shot in a battle with a burglar recently, has caused the death of his father-in-law, John Morgan, 70 years old. Since the hour when Enright fell before the burglar's pistol the old man has grieved constantly.

Just as he was about to take the two little grandchildren for a walk he cried to his daughter: "Hugh is calling me; I am going to meet him," and fell dead. The doctors say his heart was broken.

An extraordinary tribute to the bravery of Enright has been the raising of a benefit fund for his family, amounting to $15,000. It has been placed in trust.

ALL LOOKS BRIGHT
FOR CANYON ROAD

Everything is looking favorable for the widening of Canyon road. Members of the Engineering and Streets committee visited the street yesterday and will recommend to the Council that the City Engineer make a survey of the land in order to ascertain the exact amount that it will be necessary for the city to purchase. The intention is to make the street thirty-six feet wide up to the turn and this will necessitate the buying of about fourteen feet of the property along the north side a short distance back from State street. The owners of the property say they only want a fair price and that when the improvement is made they will pave the street. This being the only practical route to City Creek canyon the City Council will most likely, under the circumstances, carry out the work.

We are prepared to invest your funds so that they will bring you the largest returns compatible with safety. You hold the security. We do the work. McGurkin & Co., 124 Main st.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Edwin Hawley and Frank Ray have filed a petition in the United States District court for a restraining order against the receivers to stay all proceedings in the matter of the examinations growing out of the failure of D. J. Sully & Co. This motion will be heard April 16th. Judge Hill of the United States District court granted a temporary injunction which restrains Special Examiner Alexander from continuing the examination into the Sully & Co. bankruptcy matter.

OBJECTS TO OPERAS BY CHURCH CHOIRS

Chicago Rector Announces That Religion and the Theater Don't Mix
Well in That Way.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Dr. James S. Stone, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, has put a stop to the church choir's custom of giving operas, light or otherwise.

"Religion and the theater do not mix well in the way St. James has been trying to mix it," declared the rector. "I do not have any objections to members of the choir appearing in operas as individuals. I am, however, opposed to operas being given in the name of the church."

Dr. Stone believes the influence that surrounds the preparation and presentation of an opera is not good for the choir boys.

BAD LOOKING RUNAWAY, BUT NO ONE HURT

Fred Lathberry and his 6-year-old colt were the participants in an exciting runaway that occurred yesterday afternoon about 3:30. The start was made at South Temple on Main street; the horse sped down Main to First South and there turned west, the wind-up being on the sidewalk at First South street. Lathberry was about to step into his cart when the horse bolted; he caught by his elbows on the seat of the cart and there he hung vainly tugging at the reins and his feet dangling and dragging on the pavement. Crowds of people flocked to the sidewalks on both sides of the street, expecting to see the man hurled to his death at any minute. Patrolman Brown was among the crowd and sizing up the situation he chartered an express wagon and gave pursuit. When the officer arrived at the finish he found everything quiet. Lathberry was recovering a lap robe from the other side of a fence, where it had been thrown by the impact of the cart against a telephone pole. The horse was hitched and standing quietly. Neither the man nor horse was much the worse for the strenuous race and the cart was in no wise damaged.

DRESSED FOR PARTY WOMAN INHALES GAS

Could Not Display Her Easter Bonnet, Became Despondent and Takes Her Life.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 15.—Disheartened and despondent all week because she could not show her new gown and bonnet on Easter Sunday, Mrs. Amelia Crider, 30 years old, a cottager on South Bellevue avenue, dressed in her finery, including white kid slippers, kid gloves and an immense hat, closed the windows and doors tightly and deliberately committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Her husband becoming anxious when the hour arrived to go to church, rapped at her door, but received no response. When he entered the chamber he found the lifeless body of his wife lying on the bed.

RECOGNIZE MARY ANN AS HUMAN BEING

Congress of Women's Clubs Finds
How to Make Servant Girl
Happy.

CHICAGO, April 15.—The Congress of Women's clubs, in session here, has found out how to make servant girls happy. Here is the plan. Recognize that they are working at a trade. Pay the experts by the hour. Clearly define their duties. Don't order supper after the hired girl has quit work for the day. Give her the best labor-saving inventions. Cut out the talk about social superiority and recognize Mary Ann as a human being belonging to the same sisterhood. Teach ignorant mistresses that a price doesn't go with the women who sell their time for specific duties.

"OLDEST INHABITANT" WEDS AND CELEBRATES

Special to The Tribune.
CALIENTES, Nev., April 15.—Hon. Charles Culverwell, the "oldest inhabitant," and owner of about all the ground on which the town of Calientes and railroad yards are built, was married this evening, and gave the town a free supper, ball and a general good time.

The Venus claim, located by Farrow, Holland & Lee, shows an eighteen-inch vein of promising oxidized free gold ore. Seven new locations have been staked near camp and eighteen more twenty miles west of camp. A quantity of ore was sent to Assayer Currie at Salt Lake this week for assay. Three men are working on these claims.

Rice Bros. are building a large addition to their general store, as their business has increased beyond the capacity of their storehouse.

James McCarthy has returned from Salt Lake with a full prospector's outfit and will begin work on two promising claims located by himself and Dr. Hosmer of Calientes.

Imprisonment and Resignation.

PARIS, April 15.—The Council of Ministers decided that Col. Marchand's recent open letter is an offense against military discipline deserving of censure and punishment. The punishment will be thirty days' confinement and his resignation from the army. Owing to the popular devotion to Marchand as the hero of Fashoda, the case is exciting widespread attention.

Two Military Officers Stabbed.

MANILA, April 15.—Capt. David P. Wheeler and Corp. Percy Heyvelt of the Twenty-sixth infantry, while reconnoitering the Moro works along the Taraca river, in the Lake Lanao district of the island of Mindanao, April 11th, were stabbed in the abdomen. Capt. Wheeler died at Marahau, April 13th. Corp. Heyvelt is fatally wounded.

A MINER'S TROUBLE

REACHES A CLIMAX AFTER YEARS OF SLOW DEVELOP-MENT.

A Settlement Happily Effected in the Case of Henry Story in Time to Avert a Serious Misfortune.

If all the troubles of the coal miners could be adjusted as satisfactorily as that which for many months disturbed the happiness of Mr. Henry Story, of 532 Muskingum avenue, Zanesville, Ohio, it would be a most welcome relief for both the men and their families.

The miners form a large and important part of our population, and they will be greatly interested in the solution which Mr. Story found for a difficulty in which any one of them may find himself at any moment, as it is a frequent incident in the miner's occupation and a serious hindrance to his success.

The facts in the case were related by Mrs. Story, who was deeply concerned, and who is a very happy woman today because her husband has had such a fortunate escape from the calamity that threatened him.

"My husband," says Mrs. Story, "is a very hard working man and has always been very healthy, but some months ago rheumatism got hold of him, and made him suffer terribly, and would soon have used him up if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which, we think, are the best medicine in the world."

"He suffered so much in his legs that he could hardly stand; his back hurt, and he had such pain in his left arm that he could not rest night or day. His arm would turn numb and I would have to rub and bathe it in hot water. I tried everything I could think of to give him relief."

"At last he went to a doctor, who told him that his trouble had come from hard work. The doctor gave him some medicine, but it did not do any good."

"In the meantime I picked up a paper and read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and thought my husband's trouble might be with his nerves. I got two boxes of the pills for him and had to urge him to take them, because he had always been so healthy that he was not in the habit of taking medicine."

"After he had taken the first box he felt much better, and when he had finished the second box he was better still. So I bought six boxes the next time and he took four of them, that is six boxes in all. That is three months ago and he has never had an ache or pain since and can do a hard day's work with any young man. We praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all our friends."

"These famous pills cure all diseases of the blood such as rheumatism, and of the nerves such as neuralgia and partial paralysis. They effect radical cures in obstinate maladies because they go to the root of the trouble, expelling all poisons from the blood, and supplying nutritive elements that repair wasted tissues and give fresh vitality to weakened nerves. They are sold by all druggists. A special booklet on Nervous Disorders, or on Diseases of the Blood, may be obtained by simply writing to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y."
